VERY LATEST NEWS.

Fortieth Congress---Second Session

Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb 16

Mr Drake presented the credentials of Carl Schurz Senator elect from Missouri

Mr Morrill, from the Committee on Finance, reported with amendment the House bill forbidding national banks to certify checks not drawn against balances

Mr. Cattell, from the same Committee, reported a substitute to the House bill regulating reports of National Banking Associations

Mr. Sumner moved to take up the joint resolution giving a pension to Mrs Lincoln, which was carried He then filled up the blank with $5,000

The report of the Committee on Pensions was read, setting forth they see no legal ground on which Mrs. Lincoln's request can be granted

Mr Drake opposed the resolution as proposing a dangerous innovation upon the pension law

Mr Conness moved to erase the word "pension" and insert the word "allowance"

Mr Hendrick s opposed the resolution

Mr Howard favored a pension but opposed allowance

Mr Van Winkle defended the actions of the Pensions Committee, though he favored giving her a suitable sum annually in some other form

Messrs Morton and Yates favored a pension

Mr Van Winkle said he had been informed Mrs Lincoln had got $30,000 of her husband s estate, which with the balance of his salary for the year in which he was killed gave her $50 000 a very comfortable provision for a single woman whose children were grown up and otherwise provided for

Mr Conness withdrew his amendment

Mr Sumner supported and Mr Tipton opposed the resolution, which at the expiration the morning hour gave way

Mr Morton moved to suspend the order of business to take up the bill reported by the Tenure of Office law If that bill should be passed with the amendment by the Judiciary Committee the President would approve the vote and if it should be passed as it is the House unconditionally repealing the law and the passage should be withheld until the end of the session the President would probably kill it by withholding it and leave the Tenure of Office act as a legacy to the next administration The bill was of great political importance and in order to prevent the possibility of its failure it was necessary it should be passed within a day

Mr Edmunds said he had tried several times to get a bill to repeal the Tenure of Office bill before the Senate, and he desired it should be speedily acted on

Mr Sherman was in favor of disposing of the bill repealing the Tenure of Office act which he thought, had operated injuriously to the public service by preventing the collection of revenue and being a great incitement to fraud He wished to see it unconditionally repealed Then he would be in favor of reference to the Constitutional Amendment

After further discussion as to the order of business, Mr Fessenden desired a meeting any business done to-day should be by unanimous consent He afterwards substituted a motion to proceed to Executive business which was carried and at 2 45 the Senate went into Executive session and soon after took a recess

House.

A bill to prevent the issue of money on United States bonds was introduced

A bill for the relief of Daniel Brice late Consul at Matamoras, by refunding him $11 000, paid during the war, passed

The House resumed consideration of the report reported Saturday from the Committee on Banking and Currency in reference to the National Banking bill Mr Blaine of Maine the Chair as Speaker pro tem

Mr Barnes addressed the House in favoring the principles and objects of the bill

Mr Coburn followed in opposition of the amendment which he offered last Saturday in reference to redistributing bank circulation

Mr Lynch spoke in advocacy of the amendment he also offered last Saturday for the equal circulation of twenty million dollars to the States and Territories having less national banking circulation than five dollars per inhabitant

Mr Randall made an argument in advocacy of the amendments reported from the Committee on Banking and Currency

Mr Pomeroy moved the previous question on the bill and amendments It was seconded with the understanding that the vote be taken to-morrow, and the House took a recess during session to be for consideration of the Internal Revenue bill

Opening of Parliament—The Queen's Speech.

LONDON Feb 16

The formal opening of the New Parliament took place this evening The members of the House of Commons were summoned to attend at the bar of the Chamber of Lords and hear the royal speech The Queen was present but her Majesty s speech was delivered by royal command and read to the assembled House by the Lord Chancellor The speech is in substance as follows

The Queen assures the Lords and Commons that the relations of Great Britain with all foreign powers are at present on an excellent footing The hostilities which threatened to break out in the East have been prevented by the Conference of the Great Powers at Paris and the hope is expressed that negotiations with the United States will place on a firm and durable basis the friendship which should exist between England and America The disturbances in the colony of New Zealand are to be regretted, but the Queen is sure that prudence and moderation on the part of the Government will prevent a recurrence of such unhappy events The estimates which will be laid before the Commons by her Majesty's Ministers are framed on the basis of economy, coupled with efficiency in the administration of the service In continued suppression of the operation of the writ of habeas corpus in Ireland is regarded as unnecessary The commercial arrangements for Ireland are to be considered by Parliament, and the legislation for the adjustment will make large demands on the wisdom of both Houses On this subject the Queen concludes as follows

I am persuaded that careful regard will be had to the interests involved and to the welfare of religion, and that through the application of principles of equal justice to the questions before them Parliament will secure the undivided feeling of the people of Ireland on the side of loyalty and cause the memory of past collisions and cherish the sympathies of an affectionate people

Popular Demonstrations

PETROLEUM MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE MORNING HERALD,
TITUSVILLE, Feb 16 1869—3 P M

The Petroleum market was weaker to-day up to the middle of the afternoon when prices hardened slightly under a moderate demand for New York, induced by the decline of the earlier part of the day The inquiry for both Oil City and Cleveland improved very perceptibly toward the close, and offers to buy were pretty freely made at points between Petroleum Centre and Oil City at $6.50 without sellers At Pleasantville there was a fair amount of activity sales of 2, 500 bbls being reported at $6 09 at the wells, equivalent to $6 40 at Titusville or Pithole There was an evident disposition among two or three of the dealers late in the afternoon to take, on speculation, all lots offered at or near the decline indicated by the season, and when it became generally known that this disposition existed the feeling improved and at the close there was a firmer tone than there had been at any other time during the day The sales and re sales aggregated about 7 500 bbls, and included 4 000 for New York 500 for Cleveland 2 000 for Oil City, or on speculation

County Committee Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Republican County Committe, at the Republican Headquarters, at Meadville, on Friday, Feb. 20th, 1869, at one o'clock p. m., to fix the time of holding the primary meetings, and to elect delegates to the coming State Convention.

HARVEY HENDERSON, Chairman.

Varieties.

—We regret to learn that J. H. Baker, Esq., is lying seriously at his residence in this city.

—Post 98 of the G. A. R., of Meadville, have tendered the free use of their Hall, in Betts' Block, Water street, over the Journal office, to the Re-union of the 57th Pennsylvania Volunteers on the 22d inst.

—The Young Men's Christian Association of Cleveland are raising a fund to build an edifice for the purposes of the society. Its estimated cost is $75,000. Its members have already subscribed $12,000, and the business men of the town are expected to contribute liberally to this object.

—The Cleveland Herald speaks of the broad gauge railroad connection between the oil regions and that city as a source of great wealth, the numerous refineries it has called into existence giving employment to an army of laborers and machanics; it also says that the finest streets in that city bear evidence in the shape of handsome residences to the value of the oil business to that city.

—In the transfer and conveyance of real estate the question often arises, which party is to pay for the deed? Hitherto it has been customary for the purchaser to pay for the papers. But a late decision of the Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania holds that the seller is bound to make a deed, and as a deed without a stamp is useless, the seller is bound to furnish the stamp. This decision was given in a case that recently came before the court, where the purchaser refused to pay, and the Supreme Court held that he was right, that the seller must at his own expense give a good and sufficient title.

—We have to congratulate "the Bard of Pleasantville" on his stroke of fortune, or of oil, which is the same thing now-a-days. Poets have not usually been "rich in this world's goods," but there are exceptions to all rules. Mr Holmes had, with the faith of his imaginative class, put his "bottom dollar" in a well at Pleasantville, and Nature in her kindest mood, has given him a forty barrel-er, at a time when oil is at the highest figure. Mr. Holmes' Muse will, we hope, continue to flow, under this new Petroleum inspiration. Later—We learn that friend Holmes is about to test another well, which is also a "sure thing."

Effects of the Pacific Railroad on Foreign Nations.

One effect of the Pacific Railroad system of this country which has not been much discussed, is already becoming evident. We allude to the influence which the example of the United States is exerting upon other nations, having like ourselves, vast areas of territory, and needing as much as we, both for efficient government and material progress, the agency of perfected communications between their different provinces. The employment of railroads as means of populating territory, building up communities, and creating commerce and trade, and not merely as conveniences for an already established and industrially developed condition of society, is an American idea. To the rapid extension of our railway system in advance of settlement and civilization, more than to any other one thing, is due the enormous progress of this nation in the conquest of a continent. So long as our activity in this direction was confined to comparatively short, local lines, foreign nations seemed to wonder at our success, without conceiving the possibility of imitation. But the daring plan and energetic execution of the Pacific Railroad have aroused the attention of the world; and two great nations, Russia and China, seem to be particularly interested. We read that on the occasion of the recent reception of Hon. J. Ross Browne, the American Minister to China, Prince Kung, regent of the Celestial Empire during the minority of his nephew, the Emperor, inquired with much interest how the Union Pacific Railroad was progressing. At the same time it is reported that the Czar has sent to this country two civil engineers, with instructions to make a complete examination of the operations of the Pacific and other great railways in the United States, having in view the construction of a railroad from China, across Asia, to the capital of Russia. These indications are highly significant.

MARK TWAIN'S LECTURE LAST EVENING.—One of the largest and most select audiences of the season greeted this celebrated humorist, at Corinthian Hall, last evening. The subject, "The American Vandal Abroad," afforded an excellent field for the versatile genius of "Mark Twain," for rare poetic description, as well as keen and racy hits. The lecturer held the audience in a state of subdued mirthful enjoyment for nearly two hours, occasionally exciting their uproarous laughter, or lifting them in his eloquent flights, as he apostrophized the Sphynx, or depicted the glories of Venice or Athens. The lecture was indeed, a fine entertainment, and was only marred by an unseemly disturbance in the rear of the hall, which was equally annoying to the audience and the speaker. A policeman was present, and was in duty bound to eject the blackguard summarily, instead of doing which, as he was directed, he only parleyed with him, and the noise and confusion were kept up with impunity. It is a very common thing for one or more rowdies to disturb a public performance in the hall in this manner, and it is time the nuisance was abated. It is not only an affront to the stranger who furnishes the entertainment, but it scandalizes the city which tolerates it.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.—A fire occurred last night about 11 o'clock on the South side of the railroad track, between Washington and Franklin streets, destroying a large and extensive barn belonging to Mr. John Meising; also a frame house used as a butcher shop, and owned by Adam Good, besides contiguous sheds and an oil derrick. The barn contained several tons of hay and three fine cows, a wagon, a lot of poultry, and nothing was saved.—The heat was intense, but the islolated condition of the buildings prevented the flames from spreading to the neighboring houses. The fire department and a large concourse of citizens were assembled, but three-quarters of an hour elapsed before the steam engine made its appearance and complaints of the general inefficiency of this sort of management were loud and deep. In other localities the consequences of such delay might have been serious in case of fire. Shall these things be? Mr. Meising's loss is about $3,000; insurance $400. The fire is attributed by the owner to incendiarism, and he alleges that he knows who did it, and what for.

Petroleum Items.

The new well recently struck on the Patterson farm, Bull run, owned by Messrs. Watson and Porter, which commenced producing at the rate of twenty-five barrels per day, is now reported at fifty barrels. This is the second fifty barrel well which has been struck on the above named run within the past two weeks. The appearances are in favor of the territory in that vicinity producing oil for some time to come.

We have been furnished with the following account of the production of Ohio and West Virginia by a gentleman operating on Oil Creek, who visited the producing districts named below, last week;

Smith's Ferry,	bbls. per day about	250
Cow Run, W. Virginia	" "	250
Sand Hill,	do " "	150
Burning Springs,	do " "	300
Oil Rock,	do " "	10
White Oak,	do " "	100
Total bbls. per day about		1,060

The production at White Oak and vicinity is of Lubricating oil, and at all the other points it is about the same gravity as that found in Pennsylvania. The development now going on is slight, as only three or four wells are being drilled at Sand Hill and three at Burning Springs. There is greater activity among the producers, however, than there has been at any time within the past year, and a great many of the old wells are being cleaned out and the well fixtures put in repair. Oil was selling last week at about $6.00 at the wells.

We published, day before yesterday, an article showing the receipts of taxes from Refined Petroleum for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1868, taken from the Cleveland Herald, and from which that paper drew the "obvious" inference that the refining business of Cleveland is about two-thirds larger than that of this State. But here is the article:

"A comparison of the tables of return show that the amount of duties received from the Cleveland district was over sixty-two per cent. greater than that received from the entire State of Pennsylvania, and more than one third of all the amount received from refined petroleum in the United States. The figures are as follows:

	Total Tax Received.
Eighteenth District (Cleveland)	$1,560,080
All Pennsylvania	959,583
Total Receipts for United States	4,314,641

The inference is obvious. Even the refining business of Cleveland is nearly two-thirds greater than that of the whole State of Pennsylvania, or the Pennsylvania refiners have succeeded in perpetrating enormous frauds on the revenue. *The Pennamites can take which horn of the di*lemma they choose."

It is seen that the Herald takes the amount of taxes received as an indication of the quantity of Refined oil produced, but it forgets that there was such an oil as "bonded" oil, in the manufacture of which the Cleveland and Pennsylvania refiners and those of the rest of the United States, but especially those of Pennsylvania, were largely engaged for the purpose of supplying an enormous export demand.

The figures given above only indicate the amount of oil on which duty was paid, which was the quantity sold for home consumption, and the Herald might have been contented with saying what is true, that the Cleveland refineries produced more oil for home consumption than did the refineries of this State. From what we know of the demand from the West and from the important part that the refiners of Cleveland took in supplying the export demand, we are positive that amount of bonded oil transported from Cleveland to the seaborad was at least two-thirds more than that on which taxes were paid. The Herald then, represents the Cleveland refining business at two-thirds less than what it actually is; and then with coolness that is decidedly refreshing, even for a lake port in winter, it says that the one third it gives, is about two thirds greater than that of the whole of Pennsylvania.

This must indeed, be news to the Cleveland oil men, and the dear people who have talked and fretted so much about the "oil nuisance" were, no doubt, pleased to learn that more oil was refined in Cleveland than in any other place on the globe, and consequently that there is a great deal more of the "nuisance" there than any where else. The true way to ascertain the extent of the refining business of *Cleveland and Pitts*burgh or any other place, is to take the shipments of Refined from them, but when they cannot be obtained the shipments of Crude to, and the stocks in them will answer about as well. For the information of the Herald we append the following statement showing the amount of Crude converted into Refined in Pennsylvania in 1868 from the shipments of Crude to the different places where there are refineries and the stocks in them at the beginning and close of the year, and from the shipment of Refined equivalent from the oil region, and also the amount of crude converted into refined in Cleveland by the former means.

The stocks and shipments are from our reports, and are rated at 43 gallons to the barrel.

The above statement shows a much different result than was obtained from the duties paid on Refined oil, as, instead of the refining business of Cleveland being two thirds larger than that of this State, the latter is nearly twice as large as that of Cleveland, and "even" that of Pittsburgh is, as will be seen by comparing the figures, largely in excess of that of Cleveland. Will the Herald oblige its readers with the correct statement of the refining business of this State and of Cleveland, and say less about "dilemmas," and "horns," and "enormous frauds on the revenue!" A word more—if the Cleveland man will consult our Monthly Reports, we venture the prediction that he will not again fall into an error like that which has been the cause of our remarks.

SEDUCTION AND MURDER.—A young lady of Espyville, in this county, lately disappeared under mysterious circumstances. Soon after a trunk of unknown contents was left at the Buffalo depot "to be called for." No claimant appearing, and the box emitting a disagreeable oder, it was opened, and the charnel remains of a woman discovered. It is said that the decimated corpse has been identified as that of the missing person. Rumor has it that the girl was the victim of the seducer, to whom she applied in vain for redress. Foul play is suspected, and the legal and police authorities are engaged in unravelling this horrible mystery.

Letter From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12, 1869.

Editors Morning Herald:

HOTELS CROWDED.

The advent of visitors for the 4th of March has already commenced, and our principal hotels are nearly full. Last evening guests arriving at the Metropolitan Hotel—which, by the way, is the best conducted hotel in the city, being to Washington as the Continental Hotel is to Philadelphia—were compelled to wait until the departure of the evening train North, before rooms could be assigned them. Its public halls have the appearance of a Town Hall in the country, on Town Meeting day.

THE WORD "WHITE" STRICKEN OUT.

The Senate has passed the bill striking the word "white" from the charters and all laws relating to the cities of Washington and Georgetown and the county of Washington, in the District of Columbia. It has already twice passed both Houses, but within less than ten days from the expiration of the session, and failed to become a law by reason of the President not returning it before the adjournment.

THE AIR-LINE RAILROAD BILL.

Hon. Frederick Stone, Representative in Congress from Maryland, has addressed a letter to Governor Bowie in relation to the Air-line railroad, the bill to incorporate which is now before the House. In the course of that letter he says: "Since this bill has been introduced I have examined the question carefully, and I believe dispassionately, and I have no doubt of its unconstitutionality, and that the first spade full of earth thrown up in making the road will afford an opportunity to test it before the Supreme Court of the United States. I suppose the State will take, at the proper time, the necessary steps to obtain the decision of that court." So we may look out for a legal testing of the matter.

THE INAUGURATION BALL.

The Committe on Inauguration Reception have completed their arrangements. It will be given at the north of the United States Treasury Building, which being new and admirably adapted for the purpose, furnishes superior and ample accommodations. General Grant, Vice President Colfax and families will be present on the occasion. Several bands of music have already been engaged. An elegant supper will be furnished by an accomplished caterer, accessible from the opening to the close of the festivities. Tickets ten dollars each, which will admit a gentleman and two ladies to the reception, dancing and supper. There is already a great demand for them. Tickets can be obtained either by letter or in person, on application at the headquarters of the committee, No. 407 F street.

Gen. Grant is returned to Washington, and is daily receiving a great number of visitors up to 12 o'clock, which is the limit of time in which they are admitted.

Hon. Matt. H. Carpenter, Senator elect from Wisconsin, vice Mr. Doolittle, is said to be one of the ablest debaters and most popular speakers in the West.

Ex Governor Buckingham, Senator elect from Connecticut, has added himself to our list of house-in-town owners, having just bought a fine new brick mansion, one of a block of several, opposite Senator Morgan's on 15th street; the same block of which Hon. Fernando Wood recently purchased the corner house.

In this city, Frank Gunnell, a boy 14 years old, is performing, or being made to perform by unknown power, very similar inexplicable feats to the Davenport Brothers, and under similar circumstances, but in private at his father's house. A public exhibition is promised.

A rat terrier puppy, born with only two hind legs, jumping about as lively as a cricket, after the fashion of a kangaroo, has been sold by a man doing business here to Barnum in New York, to be delivered after the 4th of March. He is named Gen. Gaant.

Grace Greenwood (Mrs. Lippincott) delivered her lecture here on the "Heroic in Common Life," Wednesday evening, to a large intelligent audience. It was well received.

Grocers and other dealers may find it to their interest to take care and see that their small package goods are all properly stamped as required by the Internal Revenue laws. A great many persons are getting into trouble on account of their neglect in this matter.

THE "SEASONS" OF WASHINGTON.

Nothing more strikingly illustrates the controlling influence of local fashionable customs upon the people in "society," than the strict observance here of the "seasons," by nearly all persons in the upper circles. Cabinet officers, Senators, Representatives, Judges, &c, coming here from all the States, and belonging to the Congregational; Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, Dutch Reformed, Unitarian and Universalist denominations, in which no religious season, beyond Sunday, Thanksgiving and Fast Day, is recognized, and in most of which "Catholic" is only another name for superstitious idolatry, and "Episcopalian" little better, will, on setting up an establishment, give and attend receptions, parties, &c., noticed by the Jenkins of the local press as among the "most brilliant season," with and enumeration and description of all the silks and velvets and ribbons and laces and diamonds and—so forth, the hostess and company wore; and it is here they go one evening, there to-morrow evening, give a party themselves the next, and are as gay as the gayest, when suddenly they come to a full stop, as if they had been rapped on the head, draw down their faces, and draw on more sober garbs. What is the matter? Have they discovered that there is a deficiency of votes to elect Grant, after all? Have the rebels suddenly risen again? Or has some sporadic disease singled out and carried off all their friends? Nothing of all this; but sometimes of more effect; it is Ash Wednesday; the "Lenten season" has commenced. From now till Easter, farewell to gayety. But what do you Baptist and you Congregational know about Lent? What have you to do with Lent? Suppose it is Lent, what of it? Oh, the fashionable people of Washington are Catholics and Episcopalians. Ah! that's it. A satisfactory explanation.

The first is known as the "gay season," the latter the "Lenten season." Now, both of them are unknown to most of our Congressional and Official incomers, and other temporary sojourners here, at the homes they leave behind them; and the good people their neighbors would be well-nigh shocked to see plain, straight-forward brother and sister so-and-so cutting such antics, either brilliant or sombre: yet, here they are necessary to the maintenance of their proper place in "society," because Lord Baltimore, a Catholic, settled Maryland, and Lord Fairfax, and other Episcopalian Englishmen, settled the contiguous portion of Virginia.

THE APPROPRIATION BILL.—The Appropriation bill has been reported in our Legislature this year several weeks earlier than usual. This will give members an opportunity to examine the bill and propose amendments, if they deem it proper. The expenses of the House are put at fifty thousand dollars less for this year than the previous one, and the general appropriations are reduced one million of dollars.

CHURCH RUN PROPERTY now commands a ready sale, and the developments going on and projected in this favored locality are extensive. Mr. McManus, as will be seen in our columns this morning offers for sale the undivided one-half of the Stephen Sloan farm, about one hundred acres, well located, being sandwiched in by producing territory. See advertisement.

Extraordinary Dog Fight—A Man on All-Fours Whips a Dog in a Square Fight.

A correspondent of Wilkes's Spirit, writing from Loganville, Penn., tells the following story, which he says is vouched for by some of the most respectable citizens in that neighborhood:—The victor in this singular contest was Elijah Karstetter, Esq., an old resident of the county, and who is well known for his unerring aim, strong nerve and great endurance. He served in the late war from beginning to end, and although beyond the age required by law, he offered his services from pure love of adventure and patriotism. He is a man of wealth, and consequently not a hireling soldier. But now to the fight.

He was rather rude to a dog owned by a sporting man, who told him he had better take care or the dog would bite him. The dog was a large 'bull, and uncommonly ferocious. The gentleman remarked, "he would bet $5 that he could get down on all fours, fight and whip the dog, in dog fashion, and not touch him with his hands." The bet was taken at once. Down went Karstetter, who commenced a series of growls, and made a forward motion toward the dog.

The dog, seconded and hissed on by his owner, at once opened the fight, neither intimidated nor frightened by the unearthly growls, shouts, snarls and exclamations of his antagonist, but seizing him by the left cheek, drew first blood in good style. After a moment Karstetter got the upper hold, and changed his base. He actually got the dog by the ear, and shook him so severely that the dog cried out with terror, and after he was sufficiently punished his tormentor let him go, when he made off as fast as his legs would carry him, howling with pain.

All Sorts.

A colored woman in Petersburg, Va., lately gave birth to twins, whose bodies were joined together at the side, the junction extending from the first rib down to the fifth. Both bodies were perfectly formed, and the children were apparently healthy and born in the fullness of time, but they died at their birth.

A Memphis paper calls upon the Ku Klux to "gobble up" a certain "black hearted villain."

In Ohio 23 daily, 230 weekly, 5 semi weekly and 24 monthly newspapers are published.

The Cincinnatians are in the full tide of velocipedestration, and hold tournaments and contests, at which valuable prizes are bestowed. At a recent competition, Master W. E. Curtis, a youth of nine, took the first prize for speed, making a half mile in a minute and forty nine seconds. Mr. George L. Miller made a sixth of a mile in five minutes and thirty two seconds, and took the prize for slow riding. Mr. Miller also won the race for the championship.

A Chicago gentleman has bought one hundred and twenty five square miles of land in Kansas for a wheat field.

NOTICE

On and after February 1st the rates from all points through the pipes of the Allegheny Transportation Co.

ADVANCED TEN CENTS PER BARREL

This advance is occasioned by the high price of oil, which makes the unavoidable loss attending the transmission of oil through pipes a large percentage of the present freight. Should oil decline in price materially the rate will be again reduced, and it is hoped that our patrons will treat us with the same liberality as heretofore.

BY

GEO. M. MOWBRAY,

Superintendent of Blasting Nitro Glycerine at the Hoosac Tunnel Massachusetts.

[COPY]

NORTH ADAMS Mass., Feb 17 1868

Geo M Mowbray, Esq.

DEAR SIR: It is the wish of the Commissioners that you take entire control of the blasting, while introducing Nitro glycerine. They wish you to be responsible, that no accident may happen.

Please give such orders, as you deem best in regard to it. I have notified C. A. Brown to receive all instructions from you and to report to you. I shall give no orders nor advice to him but leave him fully under your control. Yours very truly
W. J. GRANGER, Engineer in charge

The terrible loss of life which had invariably attended the introduction of Nitro glycerine, probably suggested the above communication and the fact that no injury to life or limb occurred with Nitro glycerine, during the past year at the Hoosac Tunnel, although we blasted over two thousand charges a month, is the best guarantee I can offer to proprietors of oil wells, who may wish this explosive tried in their wells. I shall spare no pains, cost or outlay, to attain the best results, and having erected works on Church Run which have to-day been tested, and found to make Nitro glycerine more powerful than any produced by other parties, or imported, is safer to handle, and having the advantage of witnessing its effects in rock blasting, I hope to deserve the confidence of well operators, pledging myself that the full charge stipulated for shall in every case be exploded in their wells, or no payment will be asked. Address by mail or telegraph,

T. McCAMBRIDGE, Esq.—DEAR SIR:—We have one of Samuel Rue & Co's patent injectors in use in our establishment for the last six months, and we take pleasure in saying that it gives entire satisfaction, and would recommend it to all parties. It is simple in its construction and its working is as easily understood as the common force pump, it never gets out of order and is always ready to pour water into the boiler when required.

MR. McCAMBRIDGE—DEAR SIR:—We have used, and are still using, your patent steam injector with the most satisfactory results, and can cheerfully recommend it as the most perfect and simple we know of, and would not be without one under any circumstances.
Yours truly, M. L. BATES & Co

TO OIL OPERATORS.

I have invented a new and useful instrument for

Searching and Scraping

the walls in Oil Wells, removing the Paraffine or other substance from the sides of wells, and indicating the locality of any Crevice, be it ever so small. This has been used in a number of Wells, and all who have seen its workings pronounce it to be far preferable to anything now in use, as it will make the same record in coming up as when lowered into the well, and the same the second time as the first and will not indicate a Crevice for every Spall that may have been broken out of the rock when the well was being drilled, and thus lead the well owners to Explode Torpedoes or Tube their wells in the wrong place and occasioning a great expenditure of time and money without any beneficial results.

I will guarantee to all who may favor me with their Custom, that they will be satisfied that the record furnished them of their wells is correct and reliable.

All orders directed to me at Titusville, Box 486, or left at my residence on Church Run will be promptly attended to.
